

VOLUNTARY RECALL NOTICE

June 21st, 2019

As a precautionary measure, Zenabis has decided to recall approximately 200 mislabeled units of Wappa (3.5 grams) under our recreational Namaste brand. Due to an error in labelling, a single lot of the dried flower (number 1000125, packaged on June 3, 2019) contains a higher THC level than indicated on the label. However, please note that the information regarding the level of THC displayed both in store and online is accurate and matches the level of THC in the dried flower.

If you have purchased the product in one of our stores, you can exchange it directly in store. If you purchased the product online, you can contact our Customer Relations Centre to complete your exchange. 1-888-551-2161.

Please note that this incident is only a labelling error and does not affect the quality of the product. All other Zenabis cannabis products already on the market are not impacted by this recall.

We apologize for the inconvenience this has caused and thank you for your patience as we work towards rectifying this situation.
